Barnhill Elected Mayor Of Circleville

Council 'Borrows' $27,000 To Pay Operating Expenses

Circleville City Council Tuesday "borrowed" $27,000 from inactive deposits in order to have cash to pay current expenses of operating city government.

The action does not solve the city's financial deficit but does enable council to pay bills for the remainder of the year.

The money was taken from deposits at the First National Bank. The inactive deposits of the city are funds earmarked for specific future spending. The money is deposited to earn interest until it is needed.

The $27,000 must be "paid back" by council next year. To meet current expenses, Council authorized the city auditor, Marvene Turner, to pay Walter Drane and Co., Cleveland, the amount of $1,742.50 for codification of city ordinances and also authorized Mrs. Turner to draw warrants to pay bills totaling $5,156.29. An ordinance transferring $97.31 from the capital improvement fund to the fire department to purchase hose was approved.

A RESOLUTION authorizing the service director to have detailed plans prepared for curb and gutter and storm sewer in the Folsom Ave.-Park Place area was approved. The only dissenting vote on this measure was cast by Councilman Samuel (Pete) Cook who owns property in the area. The project if approved, is to be paid for by assessing the benefiting property owners.

Council members, by a standing vote, approved a resolution of appreciation to retired police sergeant Rod List for his 25 years of service to the city.

An ordinance was approved authorizing the Planning and Zoning Commission to appeal a decision by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb allowing Donald Nance to place a house trailer behind the Dairy Queen store on South Court Street.

Nance had a trailer on the property. He asked permission to replace it with a new trailer, but was denied the request by planning and zoning commission. Nance placed the new trailer on the lot anyway. He was charged with violation of the city's zoning ordinance by the Planning and Zoning Commission.

However, Judge Lamb held that a non-conforming use could be replaced by a like non-conforming use and ruled that Nance was within his rights to replace the trailer.

Defeated soundly was an ordinance introduced by Councilman Cook to lower the salary of service director Atwood Jones to $7,200. It was the third reading of the ordinance and Cook's yes vote was the only one cast for the measure.

COUNCIL BRIEFS

Councilman Cook told Council Tuesday he had received a number of complaints of motorists speeding on Main St. from Mingo to the city limits. Chief of Police Robert Temple noted the area has always presented problems.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt reported that installation of several street lights had been (Continued on Page 24)

Bloodmobile Will Visit Here Friday

DANA BRIGNER

A strong turnout of donors is hoped for to boost Pickaway County's standing at the next visit of the Bloodmobile Friday in Circleville.

Everyone who gave blood at the September visit are eligible donors Friday, since the necessary 56 days will have elapsed. The local contribution has slipped below quota during the last two visits and strong response is needed this time to guarantee full coverage for the area.

Family and friends of Pickaway County residents who have received blood are encouraged to replace it at this visit of the Bloodmobile. Two special requests have been made for blood donations for local persons who have or will be needing blood during hospital stays and operations.

One request was for Dana Brigner, the young football player from Westfall who was shot in the abdomen while hunting Oct. 16. Brigner will require more surgery in December. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Brigner, Route 3, Mt. Sterling, requests blood donations in his name to help replace what the young man has already used and will require in the future operation.

ANOTHER local blood recipient is Mrs. Lucille Karshner, Abernathy Ave. She is a cancer patient in Grant Hospital, Columbus.

The Bloodmobile will be in Circleville from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. Friday at the United Methodist Church, E. Main and Pickaway St.

FOUR additional type O-negative blood donors have been requested from Pickaway County at a Friday visit of the Bloodmobile here. The blood is needed for a 7-year-old boy who will undergo open heart surgery Nov. 9 in Columbus' Childrens Hospital. Donors are also sought for two local persons who are mentioned in the Bloodmobile story on page 1.

State Trooper Shot In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A hunting party with transport ranging from horses to helicopters hunted foot-by-foot today across northwest Indianapolis for traces of a motorcycle rider who critically wounded a state trooper Tuesday night.

Trooper John W. Long, 24, was given a 50-50 chance to survive at Marion County General Hospital after removal of a .38 caliber slug that pierced his liver.

Long was wounded in an exchange of gunfire with a young man whose motorcycle skidded and overturned in dead leaves after a chase.

JVS Bond Approved

Westfall, Teays Valley Bond Issues Defeated By Voters

Voters in Westfall and Teays Valley school districts defeated bond issues for construction of new facilities while a bond issue to construct a joint vocational school passed in a 3-county area.

The bond issue for construction of the Pickaway-Ross-Hocking Joint Vocational School passed, 10,809-9,369. However, the operating levy for the district was defeated, 9,882-9,816. The bond issue is for six-tenths of a mill for a period of 20 years to pay for building the proposed school. The operating levy was a 1.7 mill measure.

Nelson Stevens, president of the board of education of the joint vocational school, said today that in order for the district to be eligible for state matching funds, it was the understanding of the board that both measures would have to be approved by the voters.

He declined to comment on the status of the proposed school, noting that acting superintendent James Shope and State Representative Myrl Shoemaker were in Columbus today discussing the situation with Byrl Shoemaker of the Ohio Department of Education.

Stevens indicated that the levy may be placed on a special election in December.

In Pickaway County, the vote on the levy was 3,471-2,603 against it. The vote on the bond issue in Pickaway County was 3,184-2,944 against.

In Ross County the vote was 7,481-5,772 in favor of the bond issue and 6,818-5,991 in favor of the operating levy.

In Hocking County, the vote was 410-384 against the bond issue and 422-395 against the tax levy. All tabulations are unofficial and election board authorities of the three counties are checking the results.

Stevens said a special board meeting will be called within (Continued on Page 2)

Pickaway Voters Parade To Polls

Nearly three-fourths of all Pickaway County's voters — or 10,719 citizens — went to the polls for Tuesday's general election.

The percentage was lower in the city where only 3,248 or about 63 per cent showed up at polling sites between 6:30 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. The county vote neared 80 per cent of their eligible, or 7,471.

Reason for the higher vote in the county was the school issues which have been highly contested in the Westfall School district and the race for mayor in several villages.

The Westfall tax levy renewal was passed by nearly 1,800 voters in the area but the $1 million bond issue to build a new school in the village of Williamsport and rehabilitate three others in the district, failed by a 497 to 1,242 vote.

WILLIAMSPORT precinct showed what was probably the highest percentage of eligible voters in any village of the county. Only 20 eligible voters failed to get their mark on the ballot. Ninety-four per cent of the 342 voters, or 322, made it to the polls. Reports indicate that when the polls were closed at 6:30, the voting hall was crowded with voters who had arrived prior to closing.

Monroe-north voting precinct showed best vote in all areas with 97 per cent turnout. Of the 252 eligible voters, 245 showed up Tuesday.

Williamsport was the last precinct to report its tally to the county board of election at 8:23 last night. First in was the current record holder, precinct 1-A which is centered in the High Street School in Circleville. That district is traditionally the first to tally its results and return them to the election board.

Bell Re-Elected President Of City Council

Republican Frank Barnhill, losing only three precincts to opponent Democrat John Himrod, is Circleville's new mayor.

FRANK BARNHILL

Republican Joseph Bell stopped opponent James Locke with almost an 800 vote majority as he swept the President of Council slot.

Barnhill tallied 1800 unofficial votes, including 58 write-ins, to win the city's top spot.

The Pickaway County Board of Elections are working to recheck voting and have ten days in which to submit final official counts to the state.

HIMROD collected only 1290 supporters, 37 of which were write-in voters. He carried the majority of votes in only three precincts.

Barnhill's toughest precincts were 4C, where Himrod received 102 votes to Barnhill's 79, 4D, which showed Himrod with 41 and Barnhill with 24, and 1E, where Himrod counted 63 votes to Barnhill's 47.

Precinct 4C is S. Court St., 4D is Pickaway and Walnut Sts., and 1E is middle Court St. Barnhill carried all other precincts.

He stated in campaigning he would approach his new office with a business-like touch, while Himrod claimed he would take a personal part in city government.

Here is a precinct-by-precinct tally listing votes with Barnhill's votes listed first: 1A, 87-72; 1B, 61-59; 1C, 110-78; 1D, 102-90; 1E, 47-63; 1F, 199-76; 1G, 9057-1H, 116-110; 1J, 181-72; 2A, 66-52; 2B, 92-50; 2C, 72-55; 3A, 67-44; 3B, 81-70; 4A, 48-47; 4B, 117-115; 4C, 79-102; 4D, 24-41.

Bell tallied 1925 votes, as compared to Locke's 1152. He is the incumbent Council president.

MARVINE Turner, current city auditor, retained her job with the widest victory margin of the election. She beat opponent Sheldon Winner 2140 to 973.

In other contested council races, Republican Robert Kenworthy edged John Jenkins for the Second Ward seat 210-183.

Incumbent Gladden Troutman was victorious over Robert Good for Fourth Ward Councilman, 308-245.

The three councilman-at-large contestants, drew a large vote. Ben Gordon picked up 2003 votes, David Crawford 1831 votes and Keith Wagner 1839 votes.

First Ward Councilman David Goldschmidt collected 1358 votes and Third Ward Councilman Harold Hoffman received 293 votes.

Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb retained his seat, running unopposed, and collected 5467 votes, county wide.

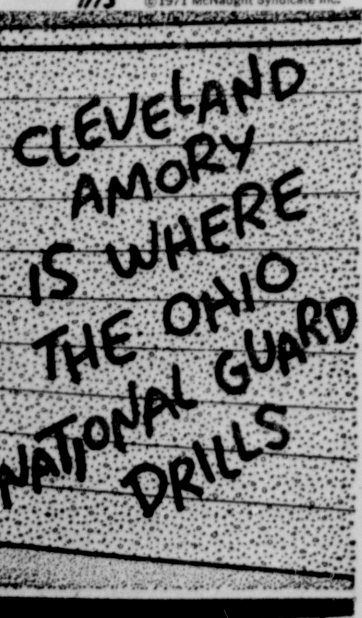

A voter turnout saw 3,248 voters cast from 5,098 eligible voters.

Wheeling Voters Back Civic Center

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP)—Voters approved Tuesday a $2.4 million general obligation bond issue to build a $3.8 million civic center in Wheeling.

The bond issue, defeated in 1966 and 1967 because it lacked the required 60 per cent approval, was approved by 63.5 per cent of the nearly 13,000 voters who went to the polls Tuesday.

Ex-Greenfield Man Arrested

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The FBI says a Kentucky man charged with selling stocks without a license has been arrested at a motel south of Atlanta.
The man was identified as Johnnie H. Varney, 35, a native of Greenfield, Ohio, but most recently a resident of Kentucky.
Conroy said Varney was arrested by FBI agents in Clayton County in connection with a federal unlawful flight to avoid prosecution warrant filed against Varney on Nov. 30, 1970 at Waycross.
The agents said this complaint was based on a felony warrant issued at Blackshear Oct. 29, 1970 by the Georgia Bureau of Investigation charging Varney with selling stocks without a license. FBI assistance was requested.

Expect Large Troop Slash For Vietnam

Laird Arrival In Saigon Hikes Shakeout Speculation

SAIGON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird arrived tonight to assemble information for President Nixon's next announcement on troop cuts. Speculation is that the U.S. force will be trimmed to 40,000 men by July.

Laird told newsmen in Saigon that U.S. battle deaths in Vietnam last week were the lowest since the United States assumed a major combat role in March 1965.

He declined to divulge the number of deaths, but said the figure would be released by the U.S. Command in its regular casualty report on Thursday.

The toll would have to be no more than two men killed. Records show at least one week since March 1965 three Americans were killed.

In the first three weeks of this past October, the U.S. combat deaths have been fewer than eight a week.
Laird said the low number of American casualties is largely due to efforts by Gen. Crichton W. Abrams' progress in modernizing of the South Vietnamese armed forces, and assumption of a greater share of the fighting by Saigon forces. Abrams is the U.S. commander in Vietnam.

Laird said that in the week before the Nixon administration took over in January 1969, there were 196 Americans killed in action during the seven-day period.

The defense secretary, here for a three-day visit, went into consultations with Abrams and U.S. Ambassador Elsworth Bunker shortly after he arrived.

He told newsmen he would make a personal report to President Nixon, and that on or about Nov. 15 the President would make a statement on the progress of Vietnamization, and "the prospects for peace as far as the negotiating route in Paris is concerned."

The strongest speculation is that Nixon will announce that he is reducing U.S. forces in Vietnam to a residual force of 40,000 by July 1.

There is also speculation that Nixon will reduce the U.S. Command to an advisory group and bring Abrams home to be the Army's chief of staff.

ABA Backs Court Choices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lewis F. Powell Jr. and William H. Rehnquist received today the American Bar Association's approval of their qualifications for the Supreme Court.
In reports submitted at the opening of Senate Judiciary Committee hearings on President Nixon's two nominees, the 12-member committee said both Powell and Rehnquist are among "the best persons available for appointment."

The ABA committee was unanimous in the view that Powell, a Richmond, Va., attorney, "meets, in an exceptional degree, high standards of professional competence, judicial temperament and judicial integrity, and that he is one of the best qualified lawyers available for appointment to the Supreme Court."
As for Rehnquist, an assistant attorney general, chairman Lawrence E. Walsh of New York City reported his ABA committee was "unanimous in the view that Mr. Rehnquist is qualified for the appointment." However, the report added: "Three members of the committee believe that his qualifications do not establish his eligibility for the committee's highest rating, and would therefore, express their conclusion as not opposed to his confirmation."

Sensenbrenner Out; Gilligan Effort Fails

Moody, Perk Win Columbus, Cleveland Posts

By PERRY SMITH
Associated Press Writer
Republican mayoralty victories in Ohio's two largest cities Tuesday amounted to a political setback for Democratic Gov. John Gilligan, who had put his influence on the line.

Gilligan campaigned for both James Carney in Cleveland and veteran Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner in Columbus. Both lost.

Carney lost to Republican County Auditor Ralph Perk while Sensenbrenner, who was seeking his fifth term, lost to Tom Moody, a former Franklin County Common Pleas Judge. Democrats also failed to dislodge Republican incumbents in the normally Democratic strongholds of Akron, Youngstown and Canton.

Democrats held one big city seat by electing incumbent Harry Kessler over Republican State Sen. Howard Cook in Toledo, 68,448 to 44,536.

Kessler was appointed last February when Mayor William Ensign resigned to head the Ohio Youth Commission in Gilligan's cabinet.

Perk's victory in Cleveland was a hard blow for Democrats and the governor in particular. It ended 30 years of Democratic rule.

Gilligan had campaigned for Carney, the Democratic nominee, in both Cleveland and Columbus appearances.

"I'll either endorse him or condemn him, whatever he thinks will help him the most," Gilligan joked.

Perk beat not only Carney, but independent Arnold Pinkney, the former board of education president who had the backing of outgoing Mayor Carl Stokes.

Adding further tarnish to Gilligan's campaign efforts on Carney's behalf was the fact he ran third in the race. Socialist Labor Party candidate Joseph Pirincin ran a poor fourth.

Perk, with 625 of 632 precincts reporting, had 87,374 votes. Pinkney had 72,386, Carney 64,923, and Pirincin 1,703.

In Columbus, Gilligan supplied manpower to aid the 69-year-old Sensenbrenner in his bid for a fifth term.

Moody, 41, hacked away that Sensenbrenner no longer ran the city, but had turned the reins over to his son and administrative assistant, Richard Sensenbrenner.

Moody's narrow victory, 77,853 to 76,840, also heralded a partial political comeback for former Republican Gov. James Rhodes.

Rhodes, who left office last January, ended several months of political silence to help Moody. He was an active, behind-the-scenes strategist.

In Akron, Republican Mayor John Ballard won a third term in a three-way race. His chief opponent, Democrat Councilman Dennis Shaul, conceded when 300 of 470 precincts were in. Ballard led 36,478 to 30,896.

Truman Webb, an American Independent Party candidate, finished third with 572.

In Youngstown, Republican incumbent Jack Hunter defeated Frank Franko, a former mayor and disbarred attorney, 35,261 to 29,261. It was Hunter's bid for a second term.

In Canton, Republican incumbent Stanley Cimch defeated Thomas Garrett, a Democrat, winning a fourth term.

Free Woman From Lima Hospital

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Lima State Mental Hospital was ordered today to release Mariann Colby who has been held six years for the slaying of an eight-year-old neighbor boy.

The 46-year-old Cleveland woman was sent to the hospital in March 1966 following the shooting death of John C. Young, who lived two doors from her.

Mrs. Colby was charged with killing the child and dropping his body on a highway median strip 10 miles away. A three-judge Cleveland court found her innocent by reason of insanity and ordered her sent to the hospital.

Judge John Harnishfeger of Allen County Common Pleas Court ruled on Mrs. Colby's habeas corpus petition that she is sane and should be released.

"But this court cannot guarantee future conduct or behavior nor can psychiatrists," Harnishfeger said in a 21-page decision. "There is an element of risk to the public involved whenever such a patient is released."

Hospital records show Mrs. Colby was considered sane following an examination two weeks after she was admitted and subsequent examinations have supported that. Even so, the examining officers recommended she be kept for further treatment.

Synod Backs Celibacy Rule

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The World Synod of Bishops has voted overwhelmingly in favor of maintaining mandatory celibacy for priests in the Latin rite of the Roman Catholic Church, the Vatican announced today.

The vote was 168 to 10. There were three abstentions and 21 proposed amendments. It was one of 19 votes the synod took on a document of priesthood Tuesday. Seven of the 209 synod members did not attend Tuesday's session.

The vote came as a great boost for Pope Paul's stand that celibacy is an essential part of tradition in the Church. The vote did not affect the different situation in the Eastern branch of Roman Catholicism, where priests are given an option between marriage and celibacy before ordination.

Only a minority of Roman Catholics belong to the Eastern church.

The synod's vote upheld this proposition: "The law of celibacy shall be maintained in its entirety in the Latin Church."

Most Tax Levies Meet County Voter Approval

Only three of 11 tax levies proposed to Pickaway County voters failed Tuesday, and a referendum proposed in Ashville also met defeat.

A 2 mill additional tax levy to remodel and restore Circleville City Hall over a five year period was defeated by city voters, 1,842 - 1,189.

Only city precinct to give the levy a passing vote was 3A, which showed 59 voters for the measure and 48 against.

An additional 1 mill tax levy to meet current expenses in Madison Twp. was defeated by local voters 124-109.

THE 4 mill levy to meet expenses of the Pickaway County Health District was defeated 2,415-1,464.

Ashville received voter support in asking for defeat of a referendum that would vacate streets and alleys in the village. Voters defeated the measure 45-145.

Tax levies meeting voter approval were a 1 mill additional levy providing fire protection for Williamsport, which passed 172-113; a 5 mill tax renewal that will provide street lights in Commercial Point, which passed 67-25; a one-half mill tax renewal to maintain the Pleasant Cemetery, Darby Twp., which passed 291-140; a one mill tax renewal to maintain New Holland Cemetery, which passed 122-63; a one and one-half mill tax renewal to maintain Ashville streets, which passed 355-246; a one mill levy in the village of Tarlton to meet current expenses, which passed 43-35; a one-half mill tax levy renewal for operation of the Walnut Twp. cemeteries, which passed 274-159; and a one-half mill tax levy renewal to meet operating expenses of Deer-creek Twp. cemeteries, which passed 298-140.

LION'S SPEAKER — Henry Walters told Circleville Lion's Club members some tales from his recent trip to Jerusalem Tuesday night in the club's regular meeting at the Wardell Party Home.

Next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 16, when two new members will be inducted. The club also reports a successful sale of gourds at the Pumpkin Show, and announced that they are still on sale from any club member.

U Thant Back In Hospital

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U.N. Secretary-General U Thant has been hospitalized for observation after suffering a dizzy spell in his office.

Dr. Michael Irwin, head of the U.N. medical service, said Thant reported Tuesday afternoon shortly after attending a luncheon that he felt extremely weak. Irwin said he found Thant's pulse and blood pressure within normal limits but ordered Thant to enter a New York hospital.

The 62-year-old Thant suffered a similar attack last June and had to cancel trips to the Soviet Union and Africa. He has been on duty full time since the earlier attack.

Landmark Pollution Bill Passes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Turning back attempts to dilute its financial impact, the Senate has passed unanimously a $20-billion measure setting 1985 as the goal for ending pollution of the nation's waters.

The bill was sent to the House by an 86-0 vote Tuesday night.

The measure, a product of Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's pollution subcommittee, would change federal reliance on complex water quality standards and attack pollution at the source: the polluter.

In addition to the bill's objective of setting a no-discharge, no-pollution standard, here is a $14-billion, four-year federal grant program to aid states in building a network of water-treatment facilities.

With Muskie insisting the federal government can't "fudge" on the investment called for in the bill, the Senate rejected, 58 to 34, an amendment by Sen. Caleb Boggs, R-DeL., which would have deleted the contract authority to allocate money before it actually was appropriated.

On a 92-0 roll call, senators tacked to the bill an amendment by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., adding an additional $800 million in loan funds to help small businesses meet the costs of installing the pollution-control equipment required by the bill.

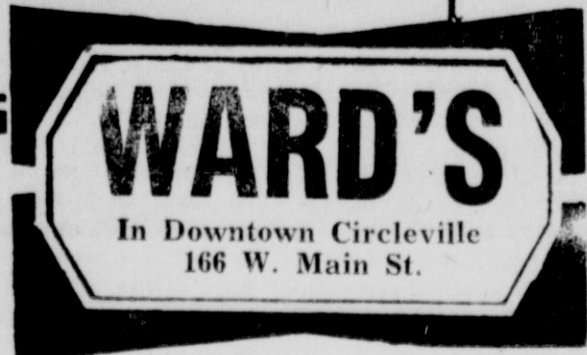

The measure requires the best available technology be installed and used over the 14-year period.

Out Of Season

Shoplifting formerly was a seasonal hazard for shops and stores, occurring chiefly under cover of the crowds of shoppers during the Yuletide buying season. That no longer is the case. Shoplifting now is a year-round scourge and in recent years has been one of the fastest growing crimes.

Even so, the swelling crowds of shoppers probably will attract large numbers of persons who may not equate shoplifting with stealing. That is exactly what it is, and the offense is punishable by fine or jail term.

What is more, crowds or not, the rising incidence of shoplifting has brought sophisticated surveillance and apprehension techniques into play. The chances of a shoplifter getting caught and punished have increased.

Young people in particular ought to repel any shoplifting temptations. A conviction for this crime becomes a permanent part of their record and could be a serious impediment in gaining admission to college or acceptance in a job application.

Consumers — which includes everyone — have the highest stake in curtailing this form of theft. It is they who pay the $3.5 billion annual shoplifting toll through higher prices stores must charge to make up the losses. Declaring shoplifting permanently out of season is to everyone's advantage.

Legislature Report

By MYRL H. SHOEMAKER
State Representative

The Ohio House of Representatives Thursday, passed legislation providing tougher regulation of strip mining in Ohio, to take a significant step in the direction of eliminating a major source of devastation and exploitation in this state.

The bill would also substantially strengthen the ability of the state to eliminate the destruction and devastation that have too often characterized strip mining in the past.

SOME OF THE MEASURE'S TOUGH NEW PROVISIONS ARE:

Before a mining operation can begin, a plan of that operation must be filed and approved by the Chief of the Division of Forestry and Reclamation, Department of Natural Resources. The plan must include a statement of scope and type of mining to be employed, intended reclamation plans, and a work timetable.

Reclamation must begin within three months after a strip mining operation has been started, or, six months after completion of mining, with stiff new standards for grading walls so that near original contour of the land is restored. (Above must also be done within six months after expiration of license.)

Additional power granted to the Chief of the Bureau of Forestry and Reclamation also allows him to declare any such area of beauty or interest to be unsuitable for strip mining and thus off-limits for any and all strip mining. In addition, the Chief may impose more stringent penalties and fines and require all operators to post a flexible bond to guarantee sufficient reclamation.

All in all, the bill is a long step toward the complete eliminating of the ravages — past and present — of strip mining in Ohio.

The Ohio House also on Thursday passed a measure, Am. Sub. S.B. 121, to revise various sections of the elections law pertaining to voter eligibility, voter registration, election procedures and, the formation of operation of political parties.

The bill would accommodate the state elections law to four recent developments: (1) the approval by Ohio voters in November of 1970 of a reduction from one year to six months in the constitutional requirements of state residency for voter eligibility; (2) the ratification of the 26th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution, in July of this year, reducing the minimum age for voting at all elections to 18 years; (3) the passage of the Federal Voting Rights Act Amendments of 1970, which prescribed various standards of voter eligibility for the office of president, and vice-president; and (4) the declaration by a U.S. District Court in 1970 that several sections of Ohio's elections law are unconstitutional because they are unnecessarily burdensome on third political parties or that they discriminate "invidiously" between independent and party candidates for elective office.

This bill reduces the minimum voting age from 21 to 18, throughout the state's elections statutes, to reflect the ratification of the 26th Amendment. It also applies uniformly for all elections, several of the standards required in the 1970 Federal Amendments for presidential and vice-presidential elections. These standards include requirements that all qualified persons be allowed to register to vote as late as 30 days before election, that absentee registration be permitted, and that absentee ballots be accepted at the Board of Elections any time before the close of polls on election day.

In accordance with the Federal Amendments, the bill authorizes any qualified person moving out of Ohio within 30 days before a presidential election to vote for president and vice-president in the precinct of his Ohio residence, in person or by absentee ballot, if he does not qualify in his new state of residence.

The measure reduces from 7 to 1 per cent the proportion of the persons voting in the most recent election for Governor or for presidential electors who must have signed a petition or voted for a group's candidate in order for that group to achieve and maintain the legal status of a political party. The bill establishes three categories of political parties distinguished by the level of statewide support for their candidate for Governor in the most recent gubernatorial election, and makes several of the organizational requirements of present law applicable only to parties whose level of support was 20 per cent or higher.

The bill also establishes new minimum signature requirements for the nominating petitions of independent candidates for elective offices and for the petitions accompanying the declarations of candidacy of party candidates.

Section 3 of the bill states that the changes made by the bill "shall have no effect" upon whether persons aged 18, 19, or 20 may hold public office or serve on a jury.

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. In order to be considered for publication, they must bear the correct name and address of the writer. Dear Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to express my appreciation for the outstanding co-operation of all organizations and persons in the Pickaway County community which resulted in the 65th Circleville Pumpkin Show being really the "Greatest Free Show on Earth."

The comments of the Kodak Circus Clowns, who perform all over the United States, I believe expressed the highest compliment our community could receive. "We have never appeared anywhere where there were as many people in attendance that behaved as well as at the Circleville Pumpkin Show." . . . In times like today this points out the total effort of the community to present a clean, wholesome, fun-filled festival that everyone can point to with pride.

Special thanks must go to the Circleville Police Department for their handling of the crowds, and to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department for the extra effort when asked to depart from their already busy schedule. All departments of the City of Circleville, Fire, Service, and Health along with the State of Ohio Department of Highways and Ohio State Patrol contributed greatly to the overall effort and success of the show.

The coverage by the news media was outstanding and took a bit of the Pumpkin Show into the homes of the shut-ins who were unable to attend. The residents of the com-

NEW YORK (AP) — What is it like to be 60?

When I reached this epic anniversary earlier this year, I wasn't sure whether I should give up completely or simply buy myself a ready-made suit of sackcloth and ashes and make the best of it.

But like most things you dread ahead of time, being 60 has turned out to be quite endurable—although I certainly wouldn't recommend it for anyone under 59.

One of the glum things about hitting 60 is that you get very little sympathy from others when you complain about the pangs of a new disease, such as hardening of the arteries or falling of the arches. "At your age," they tell you breezily, "what did you expect—mumps?"

Whatever it is, you are expected to be grateful that it isn't something worse, like athlete's foot between the ears.

There are some people who insist after turning 60 that they feel as well as before or maybe even a mite better. But everybody knows what they are: liars.

By and large, however, reaching the age of 60 has some compensations that make it less fearful than anticipated.

For example: While age is regarded as almost immoral in this country, many of your best friends still go on speaking to you just as if you hadn't done anything to lower their regard for you. They realize it isn't altogether your fault.

Teen-agers don't treat you any worse at 60 than when you were 40. To them, of course, anyone over 30 is regarded as an impossible dodo and walking relic.

Your body doesn't automatically crumble all at once, you drink one less martini a lunch and get half an hour more sleep at night, you probably won't even have to step up your daily ration of antacid pills.

It isn't necessary to buy expensive clothing or have it cleaned and pressed as often. People expect you to become somewhat dilapidated and seedy-looking. It annoys them if you try to look like a fashion plate.

You don't have to waste mental energy trying to think of something sensible to say, as nobody pays any attention to what you say whether it is sensible or not.

Your wife doesn't ask you to take her out to dinner so often. She knows that if she does she'll have to listen to you raise hell for the next three days over how much restaurants charge these days.

No longer do you have to fret and scheme about ways to ambush the boss into giving you a merit raise. It is easier for a hen to grow molar than it is for the average office worker to get a merit raise after 60.

There's also no point in pondering how to make that tired feeling go away that you wake up with every day. There is no way to make it go away—so why not relax and enjoy it more by doing less?

Yes, the rewards of reaching 60 are so positive you sometimes wonder why more people aren't standing in line to get there, too.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP) — Sixteen million Americans put $2.5 billion into Christmas club bank accounts this year, but most of them won't save their savings for Christmas.

A recent study by the Christmas Club Corp. showed that more than 70 per cent of the people who regularly put aside funds in a Christmas fund account spend the money for non-Christmas items.

A separate personal interview survey by Chase Manhattan Bank, the nation's second largest, would seem to confirm this finding.

"I've had a Christmas club for more than five years, but I've never used it to buy Christmas gifts," said Yanick Timmer of Brooklyn, N.Y., one of the Chase respondents. "Last year I used the money to go to Haiti and visit my family. This year I'm using it to buy a car."

Most Christmas club accounts are paid out early in November each year.

Chase found that 75 per cent of its Christmas clubbers were women.

According to the Christmas Club Corp., which provides all the major services for banks which have such accounts, nearly a third of all club members put their Christmas funds into permanent savings accounts, and cite the psychological advantage of forced savings through regular club deposits.

The psychological boost may have been apparent to Merkel Landis when he fathered the Christmas club idea in 1910 as a cashier for the Carlisle Trust Co. in Carlisle, Pa. Landis set up a coupon system and pigeon-holed holiday savings for his customers.

The coupon system still exists in thousands of banks around the country, and visitors were to be commended for the fine reception given to our visiting Royalty, Laurie Schaefer, Miss America; and to Sally Simpson, Carolinas Carrousel Queen; both making comments about the friendliness of the people in the community.

My sincere thanks goes also to the Public Utilities for their fine assistance when called upon.

In the By-Laws of the Circleville Pumpkin Show Inc., the Purpose is stated as: "to hold an annual Pumpkin Show on the streets of Circleville for the purpose of maintaining and promoting a more friendly relationship with the patrons and visitors to the community . . . and to promote the best interests of Circleville and Pickaway County."

It is my belief that this Purpose has been fulfilled. Thanks to all who helped.

They'll Do It Every Time

TV And The Liberal Ethos

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Edith Efron, as readers of her scholarly study, "The News Twisters," know, kept the tape recordings of TV prime time for seven weeks during the 1968 fall campaign and proceeded to subject the broadcasts to a word count. Her "for Nixon" and "against Nixon" tabulations were cold and unemotional, even though some of her verbal descriptions were not: despite her sometimes peppery language you can't dismiss her evidence when her adding machine tells for that, for one example, the Columbia Broadcasting System's "for Nixon" count was 320, while its "against Nixon" count was 5,300. Even admitting there could be a considerable margin for error, the spread between the two figures is too utterly damning.

Yet I can concede CBS's honesty when it expresses its own amazement that Miss Efron can possibly think its 1968 campaign commentary was in any way biased. The reason the big broadcasting companies feel flabbergasted by Miss Efron's murderous adding machine is obvious: their officials, their commentators, their show biz celebrities are so immersed in the "liberal ethos" that they can't get outside it for an overview. They can't realize that words have connotations that convey different meanings to Madison Avenue sophisticates and to the old lady from Dubuque. They actually consider that the New York liberal's standard use of language is the only possible objective use. They could swear on a stack of Bibles that Edith Efron has completely misinterpreted what they did in the fall of 1968.

So, when a CBS news transcript for October 28, 1968, has it that Richard Nixon "found a group of smooth, intelligent, middle class loyalists, who, like Nixon, believe in heroes, the Puritan ethic, and the American Pantheon," and "who are more virtuous than Pete Seeger," to serve him in his campaign, CBS's President Dick Salant, a thoroughly nice guy, considers the description to be a wholly objective statement of a fact. Mr. Salant is outraged by Miss Efron's classification of this particular transcript as an "anti-white middle class editorial." He can't see that his commentator has condemned Nixonites as "squares."

Dick Salant is a New Yorker, or at least he comes from the New York commuting area. He is used to the language of the "radical chic." The people who move in the liberal ethos scoff at such things as "the Puritan ethic" and consider Bing Crosby an outmoded relic of a bygone era. The fashion in midtown Manhattan, where our big magazines and our big broadcasting companies maintain their offices, is to mock the "heroes" of the "American pantheon." They aren't "radical chic." Go to any Madison Avenue bar or travel on any commuting train to Westport or Darien and you will hear young advertising men deride their own profession. Go into any magazine office or TV studio and catch the overtones of "radical chic." If you can yourself achieve an overview, as Miss Efron has achieved it, putting aside her own anti-Nixon prejudice, you will know that the words you hear are subtly pitched to deride the beliefs of middle America. The particular transcript that Dick Salant insists is objective carries with it a snide implication: any group that goes for Bing Crosby instead of Pete Seeger is simply "not with it."

CBS has already done an honest and courageous thing

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

Almost every member of my family developed varicose veins. Although I don't have any yet, I wonder if there is any way that they can be prevented.

Miss E. McT., N.Y.

A great deal is known about the treatment of varicose veins. However, remarkably little is known about preventing them.

The word "varicose" comes from the Latin word, varix, which means "an enlarged or dilated vein."

All the causes are not known but there seems to be some hereditary factor responsible.

The condition is often associated with pregnancy. It is said, too, that tight girdles and garters can block off the veins of legs and feet and cause enlargement and bluish discoloration that accompanies varicose veins.

Overweight, too, may be responsible as well as occupations that demand heavy lifting or long standing in one position.

The diagnosis of a number of important medical conditions often is suggested by unusually large varicose veins.

If it is possible to eliminate the obvious causes, you probably will be spared varicose veins which are more unsightly than serious. And there are many excellent operations available to reduce the unsightliness and reduce accompanying fatigue symptoms.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. S., Ore.

Is an epidemic of flu expected this winter? My husband and I are both more than 75 years old, and we wonder if we should get early injections against the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. S., Ore. Dear Mr. and Mrs. S.: Winter comes early in your part of the country. I think it's wise that you should take advantage of every precaution to maintain good health.

The U.S. Public Health Service, and the local Boards of Health issue regular bulletins to physicians about the possibility of an influenza epidemic.

As yet, there does not seem to be any indication that a massive one is to be expected. Nevertheless, I do believe that there are advantages in vaccination against influenza for certain groups of people.

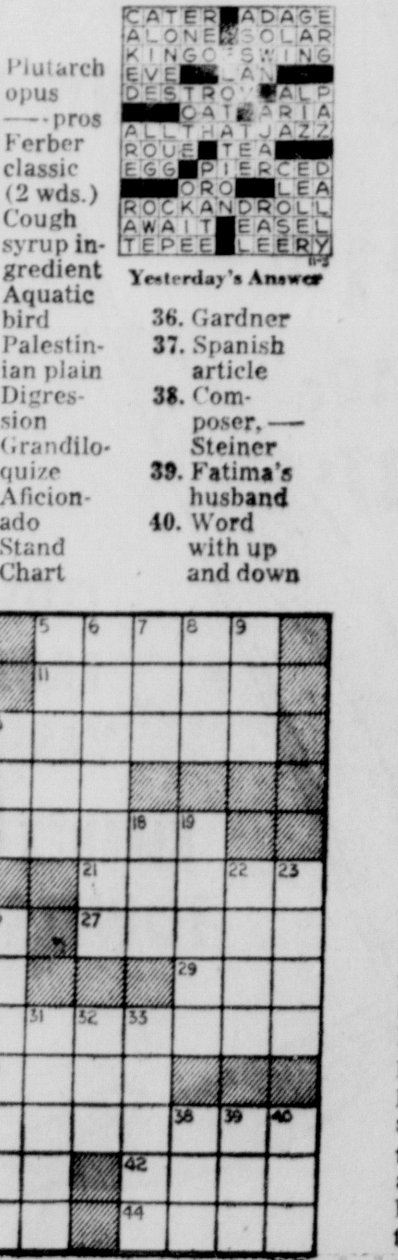

People in your age group, and those who have a history of chronic ailments, should be given the added protection that influenza vaccine affords.

You, and all other people, should follow the suggestion of your own doctor for flu injections. He knows you best.

NEW YORK (AP) — Election Day may have been a holiday for some but Bob Hope was busy making Christmas plans. "We'll be going around the world again," the comedian said. "Hawaii, Okinawa, Thailand, Vietnam, Italy, Madrid and Guantanamo — it wouldn't be Christmas if we were doing anything else. Actually, it's pretty exciting. I get so much mail from the kids asking us to visit them—we can't hit them all, but we try."

Hope says he expects the singing Goldiggers to be missing from his troupe—"They are busy with their own TV series, but they sure were great last year, visiting hospitals everywhere and putting on special shows for the men in them."

While Hope and his aides are pulling together his company for the annual tour of U.S. bases abroad two advance men leave before Thanksgiving to make arrangements for each stop.

Hope is busy with a new film and has another of his television specials coming up on NBC next Sunday. Last Sunday he taped the topical monologue. The rest of the show had been shot earlier.

"The monologue will stand unless something special comes up," he said. "I think the last time we changed was after a space shot. I raced to the studio the day of the show and we substituted about five minutes."

Raymond Burr and Barbara Hale were reunited Tuesday night in what started out to be an intriguing mystery on NBC's "Ironside." Miss Hale, who played secretary Della Street during all those "Perry Mason" years, this time had the part of a chic New York playwright, one of Chief Ironside's old flames. She really was sort of a footnote to the plot, a backstage story of the killing of a louse named Lenny. The wind-up, alas, was a big letdown. "Two on a Bench," ABC's 90 minute "Movie of the Week," was an increasingly rare TV sight: a light comedy that actually worked and even moved one to occasional laughter. This was largely due to the talents of Patty Duke, who can handle comedy as adroitly as she does serious roles. Ted Bessell proved he can do something more complicated than play straight man for Marlo Thomas.

It was a giddy story with satiric overtones about a rich, stuffy young man and a swinging hip girl picked up by federal agents as spy suspects. But the show was stretched beyond its strength: It would have been a delightful hour.

Holiday Decorating Contest Gets Chamber Sponsorship

Directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce elected Tuesday to continue their sponsorship of the Christmas Home Decorating Contest.

The contest has become an incentive for many residents of the city and surrounding area to create attractive Christmas holiday displays which add to the beauty of the holiday season here. Further information on the contest will be released later.

4 Charged In Bus Case

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Pending a final hearing, four youths have been placed on strict house arrest on various charges including vandalism of all 19 of the school buses at nearby Franklin High School.

Judge H. William Bowers of the Warren County Juvenile Probate Court ordered on Tuesday that the four, all from Franklin, be released to the custody of their parents. The youths may only leave home when accompanied by their parents, or when going to school.

The fuel lines of the buses were cut the night of Oct. 26 and the vehicles were out of service the entire next day. About 1,200 of the 5,500 students at Franklin missed classes because of the lack of transportation. Parents drove most of the students to school.

The same youths have also been charged with tampering with fire hydrants in Franklin and with grand larceny and breaking and entering.

Use Of Helicopters Studied In Cincy

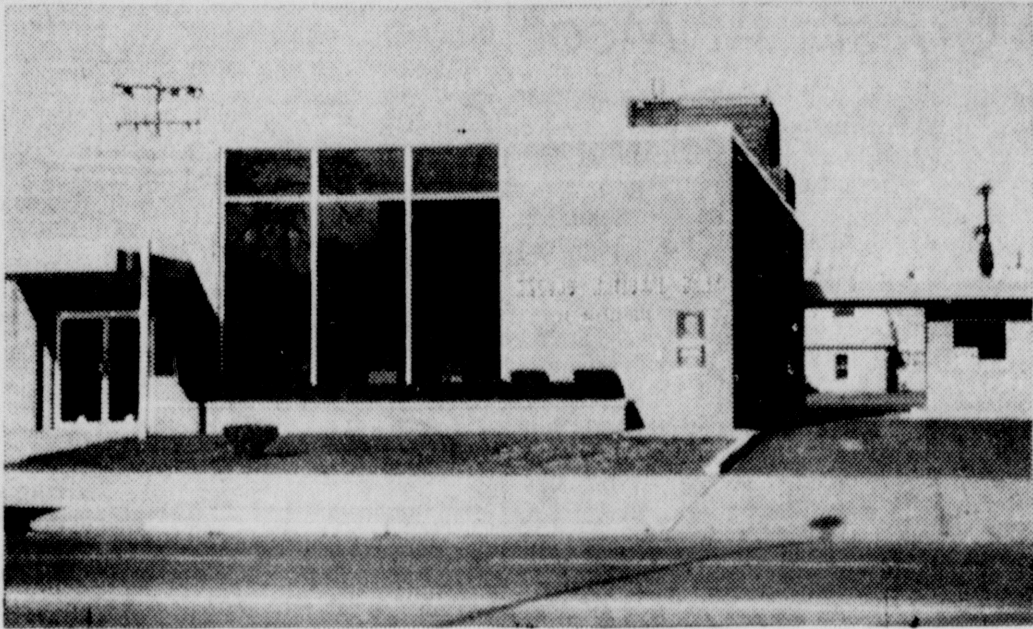

CINCINNATI (AP)—A study is being made in Cincinnati to determine whether the usage of helicopters should be increased in police and fire protection.

City Manager Richard Kra-bach informed city council Tuesday that the safety department has requested funds in its 1972 budget for the study. He said the study has been launched in anticipation of approval of the funds by council. He said the possibility of grants for the project will be checked.

Campaign Poster Cleanup Plans Set

CINCINNATI (AP)—A local savings and loan firm offered prizes to young people to collect political posters for recycling Tuesday, and a Covington, Ky., candidate offered 25 cents each for the return of his.

The prizes, a motorbike, cases of soda pop and cash, were offered by George Beh-ymer, president of the Home Federal Savings and Loan Association.

22 Solons Push Corn Purchase To Raise Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio Reps. Clarence Miller and Delbert Latta were among 22 congressmen who called on President Nixon Tuesday to order government purchase of 600 million bushels of corn to boost prices to "reasonable levels."

The congressmen said in a letter that the Midwestern farm economy "simply cannot endure continued distress selling by our feed grain producers at these levels."

They said prices for this year's record corn crop have tumbled to as little as 90 cents a bushel in some markets from a mid-June average of $1.38. They asked the President to order the Commodity Credit Corp. to use its congressionally-granted authority to begin purchases in support of the price of corn.

Ecology Help From Bible

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE
Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A minister's wife who heads a church environmental advisory group says part of the world pollution problem may stem from misinterpretation of the Bible.

"People read in the Bible that man should have dominion over the earth," said Mrs. Robert Rea of Atlanta, "and they forget it also says nature should be exalted for its own sake."

Mrs. Rea, whose husband is associate pastor of Central Presbyterian Church, is the chairman of the Advisory Group of Environment established last fall by the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.

Her advisory group is engaged in the production of educational materials for distribution by the church in May during an environmental emphasis month.

The group has recommended the church make environmental education a permanent part of its religious curriculum.

"If we start educating children through the church," she said, "it might produce dividends for all of us in the years ahead. The church is a logical place for that. It has been almost a Christian fault that some of this has happened. We can trace it biblically."

Mrs. Rea quoted Genesis 1:26: "Then God said let us make man in our image after our likeness and let him have dominion over the fish of the sea and over the fowl of the air and over the cattle, and over all the earth and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth."

"Basically that is where the misunderstanding comes from — Let us have dominion, let man use nature of and for his own good and not be concerned about the future," she said. She suggested man might interpret this as an alibi for spoliation of his environment.

"We should find our direction in the book of Isaiah," she said, "where we are told, 'The mountains and the hills shall break forth before you into singing, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands.'"

She suspects church involvement in the environmental crisis might not win universal acclaim. "People might like the thought," she said, "but that could change when you're telling them not to buy a particular brand of detergent."

Mrs. Marion's Class Plans Yule Party

Mrs. Marion's Class of Community United Methodist Church met Monday evening in the home of Leona Crites, 211 Watt St. Assisting hostesses were Margaret Johnson, Olive Eitel and Lillian Cook.

Phyllis Kline, president, conducted the meeting. Devotions were led by Evelyn Steele who read the 100th Psalm and discussed the real meaning of thankfulness.

Mary Goldschmidt, projects chairman, said the pecans to be sold by the class will be delivered to the office of Hazel Yeatts. Helen Brown is in charge of ordering Christmas wreaths for the church.

The annual Christmas Party of the class will be 6:30 p.m. Monday, Dec. 6 at the church. Officers will serve as hostesses. Phyllis Kline will prepare the turkey and dressing for the otherwise carry-in dinner. A gift exchange will be conducted. Margaret Johnson reminded members of the General WSCS meeting 8 p.m. Wednesday when the Rev. Henry Walters will show slides of the Holy Land. A dessert smorgasbord will follow. During the social hour game were played and prizes won by Bennie Burns and Phyllis Kline.

Tiny Village Illustrates Destruction Of Tidal Wave

Editor's Note: Santosh Basak of The Associated Press was one of the first newsmen to visit the coast of Orissa State after it was devastated last weekend by a cyclone and tidal wave. In this dispatch, he writes of the damage to a village 200 miles southwest of Calcutta.

BHADRAK, India (AP) — In the best of times, life is not prosperous in this small farming town on the coastal plain about 20 miles from the Bay of Bengal.
Today it is hell.

Oil Firms Say Reserve Plentiful

HOUSTON (AP) — The nation's independent oil operators contend discovery of adequate domestic oil and gas supplies is a matter of economics rather than limited U.S. resources.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America has voted to ask the Nixon administration to establish a peril point at which imports threaten the health of the domestic petroleum industry and national security.

"Domestic oil and gas producers have the ability to prevent increasing dependency on foreign oil and gas," said a resolution adopted Tuesday by the 4,500-member trade group.

"Prompt action is required, however, to revise government policies and restore a healthy economic climate."

Another resolution said threatening shortages of natural gas have confirmed the soundness of the association's policy position that wellhead prices should be completely free of Federal Power Commission controls.

The independents urged enactment of pending bills that would offer complete decontrol of wellhead prices or at least clarify the FPC's authority over prices of gas sold into interstate commerce.

year, in medicine, went to Dr. Earl W. Sutherland of Vanderbilt University for his work on hormones.

Last Friday afternoon, storm clouds moved in from the coast. By Monday, a cyclone and the wash of a tidal wave had swept over Bhadrak and most of the coastal region of the east-central state of Orissa.

The latest official estimate of deaths is 6,000 in the state, but this is expected to rise much higher when reports are received from areas that are still isolated.

Because Bhadrak is not on the coast, it escaped the brunt of the tidal wave, and only 20 of its 7,000 people are known to have died. But the destruction of their mud and bamboo huts and the crop loss on the surrounding rice farms is a major tragedy for these farm laborers, with little or no money and no prospect of getting any.

Sambhu Shau, owner of a small business, said that as the storm clouds built up Friday afternoon, the winds got stronger and stronger.

"The winds were so strong at one point that it was impossible for anyone to stand up without grabbing or holding on to something. By evening, tree tops were touching the ground and the roofs of many houses had blown away."

People frantically threw straw mats—or anything they could get their hands on—onto the roofs of their houses in an attempt to keep them from being blown away.

"But nothing was of much help," Shau continued. "People were so frightened. Women and children were crying. It seemed as though that night the whole town was crying."

Mrs. Sitala Roy, a middle-aged woman who came to a makeshift stand to buy some rice for her family, said the winds swept away her small house "in only a few minutes."

"Then, after the cyclone came, the flood waters came and swept away everything that was left of my house," the woman added, sobbing.

The winds swept rivers of raging water through Bhadrak's streets.

Trees are strewn about like matchsticks.

One of the biggest buildings in the bazaar district was split in half when a giant banyan tree fell across it.

Water is knee deep in most of the village. Health officials are concerned that as it slowly recedes, cholera will follow.

'72 Nobel Prize Speculation Starts Before Dust Settles

STOCKHOLM (AP) — With the dust hardly settled on the 1971 Nobel Prize races, the machinery and rumors are already in motion for the 1972 prizes.

It's taken for granted that many of the people who lost out this year will be prominent in next year's speculation.

Such as Australian novelist Patrick White, a leading contender for the literature prize for several years.

And the seemingly perennial peace prize contenders: Danilo Dolci, the Italian social reformer who battles the Mafia in Sicily; Canon John Collins of St. Paul's Cathedral in London, a pacifist, and Archbishop Helmer Camara, the Brazilian Roman Catholic who advocates "pacifist violence."

White lost out to Chilean poet Pablo Neruda, himself a contender for 20 years or more. Some circles speculated that the Communist Neruda won only because President Salvador Allende made him an ambassador to Paris.

The peace prize went to West German Chancellor Willy Brandt, a comparative newcomer to the race.

There was a lot of talk that the economics prize would go to the Soviet Union. Instead it went to a Russian-American, Simon Kuznets of Harvard University.

And there was a lot of talk that Americans would win the physics and chemistry prizes, which they have dominated since the war. But the physics prize was given to a British citizen born in Hungary, Dr. Dennis Gabor, and the chemistry award went to a German-born Canadian, Dr. Gerhard Herzberg.

Gabor now works in the United States, but he did his prize-winning work—the invention of holography—in Britain.

The United States wasn't out in the scientific cold, however. The first prize announced this

Capture Pair In Robbery; Other Sought

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Two accused robbers flushed out of a cornfield by a posse of 150 lawmen were being held on $10,000 bond apiece today while police sought a third man believed involved in a liquor store holdup.

Charles Whitehead, 48, of Campbell, and Samuel H. Roth, 33, of Cleveland, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Tuesday to charges of armed robbery and breaking and entering.

Judge Richard Cole scheduled a preliminary hearing Thursday.

The two were captured after about 150 law officers, including local police, sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen, closed in on a cornfield directly behind the shopping center in which the liquor store is located.

A private plane carrying a city policeman circled the area to spot the men among corn stalks in the 50-acre field.

Still being sought is a third man who drove away from the store in a truck believed to have contained 350 cases of stolen whiskey, estimated to be worth $21,000.

Assistant Liquor Store Manager Charles Blosser told police he surprised two thieves when he opened the store Tuesday morning. He said the men were armed and forced him to open the safe and give them $5,542 in cash.

Meanwhile, another employee arriving for work spotted the robbery and called police. As officers arrived, a truck parked nearby sped off and the two men fled on foot.

Police said they had recovered 4,670.

Constitutional

Amendment

Passing Handily

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio voters appear to have approved a proposed constitutional amendment, the only statewide issue on the ballot Tuesday.

While official tabulation of the vote was not to be made by the secretary of state's office until today, a survey of the state's largest cities indicated it was winning handily.

The amendment would permit proposed constitutional amendments to be advertised in newspapers rather than by direct mailings to a voter's residence.

It would also eliminate the need for ward and precinct numbers to be placed alongside the name of signers of candidate petitions.

New Mexico Moves Into Big League

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — New Mexico's state government has moved into the financial big league.

In his budget request for 1972-73, State Treasurer Jesse Kornegay has asked for purchase of a new calculator.

Kornegay explained his office needs a calculator to handle sums exceeding $1 billion.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

This 'Little Guest' An Uninvited One

DEAR ABBY: The first day of school, Paula, my 7 year old, brought a classmate home from school. (I'll call her "Debbie.") Debbie asked if she could stay here until her mother got home from work at 6 p.m. She said her mother had told her to either play outside or go to a friend's house as the house would be locked.

I said it would be all right, then I fixed snacks for Paula and her little guests.

Well, the "little guest" has been coming home with Paula every afternoon, and she stays here until she hears her mother's horn outside.

I wonder what would happen if I had to take Paula somewhere after school and couldn't take Debbie? Or if the girls had a fuss, as children sometimes do? Also, it will soon be dark before 6 p.m., and Debbie can't stay outside alone.

Abby, I resent being saddled with the responsibility of looking after someone else's child without even having been asked.

What do you suggest I do? I have never even met the woman.

DEAR TRAPPED: Introduce yourself. (Telephone, to avoid any embarrassment to Debbie.) Tell Mamma you don't mind having Debbie occasionally, and even frequently, but she shouldn't assume that you will look after the child daily, so she had better make some other provisions for Debbie's care.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been happily married for eight years. I have never had any reason to distrust him,

Massive Auto Theft Ring Cracked By Toledo Police

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Police said the arrest of three people Tuesday cracked an auto theft ring that was believed to have done as much as $1 million in business over the past five years.

Charged with concealing a motor vehicle and furnishing false information to secure an Ohio title were Carol Ruth Bailey, 26, of Wyoming, Mich., and Peter Cole Bere, 31, of Southgate, Mich.

Bere also was charged with tampering with a motor vehicle.

Also arrested was Donald Frank Hall, 37, owner of a Toledo towing service, which police said was in possession of three stolen vehicles. Hall was charged with receiving stolen property.

Detectives said the ring had been in existence since 1966 and that so far they have been able to account for part of 23 cars. At least 20 other cars were taken by the ring, officers said, but they were so torn up that ownership was impossible to establish.

Detectives Ronald Kazmierski said most of the cars were stolen in Michigan and Ohio. However, some have been found as far away as Florida, he said.

"From what we know of their operation from July until now," Kazmierski said, "It is very possible that they did close million dollars worth of business."

Michigan State Police said Tuesday that Toledo authorities also played a part in breaking up an auto theft ring that had been operating in southern Michigan.

Toledo police arrested James Quelo, 33, of Gross Pointe, Mich., and George Nawrocki, 35, of Grand Rapids, Mich., in connection with the $750,000 operation.

Michigan State police arrested Richard Hilborn, 48, of Jackson; Alan S. Koss, 26, of Sterling Heights; Roger Mesko, 34, of Dearborn, and Percy Beasley of Lansing.

Harris Nixes Any Apology To Verity

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Sen. Fred Harris, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, has refused a request by Armco Steel Corp. President William Verity that he apologize for remarks made in a speech in Middletown, Ohio, Oct. 14.

An aide for Harris, D-Okla., said Tuesday that Harris is standing by figures and the general thesis of the speech which concerned the steel industry.

The aide said a formal reply to Verity has not yet been prepared.

Verity whose steel firm is headquartered in Middletown, said Monday he had written Harris and demanded an apology and a retraction of statements Harris made during the speech which was heard by a number of Armco Workers.

Verity said some of the comments regarding the steel industry were "full of distortion and economic misinformation."

Verity said some of the Armco people at the speech were "offended" by the statements and "amused by the lack of factual information."

Verity said Harris said steel prices had risen three times as fast as wages since President Nixon took office. Verity said he told Harris in the letter that prices have climbed 22.8 per cent since January, 1969, while wages have risen 29 per cent.

Kingston News Report

Mr. and Mrs. James W. Pontius attended the annual Halloween festivities and parade at Tarlton Sunday afternoon and evening. Their granddaughter, Kimberly Clark age 6 won the title of 'Little Miss Tarlton'.

Mrs. George Targee and daughter, Jennifer left last Thursday to return to her home in Denver, Colorado after visiting relatives here.

State Work Force Drop Very Small

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state payroll declined by fewer than 1,000 persons during the year ending September, the Finance Department reported Tuesday.

The greatest declines were in the employment rolls of state departments, while most executive offices showed increases.

Employment in legislative and judicial agencies showed increases, as did the elective offices of governor, secretary of state and attorney general.

The lieutenant governor's office, smallest of the elected staffs, remained constant at five.

Employment in the state auditor's office dropped by 26 and the treasurer's office had 17 fewer employees.

Slightly higher employment was reported in the departments of agriculture, employment services, health, personnel and taxation.

Peking Names U.N. Delegates

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Two former ambassadors to Peking say the Chinese Communist regime's choice of U.N. delegates indicates they will play a constructive role in the world organization.

But an Asian diplomat who has served in China noted: "They will not have that much flexibility. They themselves will not alter or dictate policy."

U.N. officials hoped for word today on the arrival date of the delegates—nine men and a woman—whose names were announced Tuesday by Peking.

The delegation is headed by Chiao Kuan-hua, 57, a seasoned diplomat and protégé of Premier Chou En-lai. Like his chief aides, Chiao has extensive experience in dealing with both the Soviet Union and Western nations.

Name Omitted

In the list of honor roll students of Circleville Junior High School the name of Beth McNaughton, a seventh grade student, was not included.

There are 13 shipping lines in the Atlantic passenger steamship conference.

James Umsted, Robert Gearhart Jr. and Paul Ankrom were the judges when the Kingston Presbyterian Church had its Halloween party and parade Sunday evening. Given a prize as the smallest masker was Tommy Barnett as a little old man; for the largest, Sally Crabtree as Baby Snooks; Randy Parsons dressed as a lady got the prize for prettiest; Molly Stoneburner was chosen ugliest in her costume of an old man; Ken Street as a girl cheer-leader was most original and Scott Congrove in his clown suit was the funniest. Ronelle Leadingham and Terry Taylor helped Mrs. Graves with decorating and ran the 'spook house' aided by the sounds from a 'spooky' record. Mrs. Willard Shaffer and Mrs. Larry Street were in charge of the games and contests and Mrs. Thoburn Orr and Mrs. Glenn Congrove headed the refreshment committee.

Mrs. Leona Gibson was visiting with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gibson and sons at their home in Wellsville from Friday until Monday.

The Deacons of the Presbyterian Church are planning a smorgasbord for November 13 at the church. Serving from 5 to 7 p.m. Tickets are now being sold and ham and turkey and all the trim-

Teen Wins Mayoralty Of Village

NEWCOMERSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Ron Hooker, a 19-year-old white-in candidate, swept to a lopsided mayoral victory in this Eastern Ohio village Tuesday, defeating four other candidates.

Hooker's unofficial final tabulation showed the independent candidate received 1,067 of the city's 1,558 votes.

Republican J.A. Tufford was Hooker's nearest rival with 329 votes, while Democrat Howard Hensley had 74, independent William Russell 42 and write-in candidate Marvin Lawver 46.

Hooker, a junior economics major at Ashland College, said he would transfer to nearby Muskingum College where he would spend some of his mornings attending class. The rest of his time would be spent on mayoral duties, he said.

He said he decided to run for mayor of the 4,000 population village because he believed it was time for someone "to come forward with positive ideas for village betterment."

A conservative, the teen-ager said he had no radical governmental changes in mind, but would "work with city council for more efficient use of village revenue."

"I also intend to work with the chamber of commerce to promote new businesses and industries—one of our major needs," he said.

He added that he also would "see that hot-rodding and speeding on village streets is stopped."

mings are being featured.

Judges were Reverend Wayne Wardwell, Mrs. Beulah Crawford and Mrs. Gail Stump who also judged pumpkin faces and drawings. Prizes were given for numerous guessing contests and everybody enjoyed doughnuts and cider. The church was decorated in keeping with the season.

Mrs. Charles Miller accompanied her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller of Grove City when they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ray at Catlett, Virginia last week. MEATS IN YOUR MENUS

All meat, from the most expensive cut of porterhouse or tenderloin to the economical cuts of chuck or ground beef, is an excellent source of complete protein — so necessary for good body maintenance and growth. All age groups need a daily supply of complete protein. The nutrition-wise, bargain-wise shopper will compare price per serving of meats when preparing her weekly menus in order to purchase the most meat per dollar spent, and in order to add variety to her menus from week to week. When steaks or roasts are on sale, they may cost less per serving than less tender cuts of meat. Keep the following guide in mind when purchasing meat:

	Serving Per Pound
MEAT — Much bone or gristle.	1 or 2
Medium amounts of bone.	2 or 3
Without bone.	3 or 4
POULTRY — all types	1 or 2

By dividing the price per pound by the number of servings in the pound, the cost-per-serving may be determined.

Ramifications Of U.N. Defeat Plague U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost to the United States for its U.N. defeat on China representation is still being counted, but it is clear the effects reach beyond the loss of a seat for the Nationalist government.

With just over a week gone by since Nationalist China was expelled from the world organization, the vote has touched on the U.S. foreign aid program, the domestic Japanese political situation, U.S. relations with Taiwan, Washington's attitude toward the U.N. and American foreign policy generally.

However, there is dispute between the Nixon administration and its critics over the significance of some of these ramifications.

For instance, State Department sources say they doubt the U.N. vote was a serious factor in the death of the current foreign aid program at the hands of the Senate last Friday.

It was a combination of frustration by liberals who opposed part of the aid bill dealing with military matters and support of some military governments and fiscal conservatives," one source said. "Throw in some circumstances of time and the fact of a large number of absentees and you have a defeat."

He acknowledged one of the circumstances was the U.N. action.

On the other side, liberal and conservative critics of the foreign aid program said the U.N. vote did indeed play an important role in defeating the assistance measure.

Angered by the Nationalist expulsion, some conservatives voted against extending foreign aid because it contained funds for U.N.-related programs. Other senators, including Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the Nixon administration had created an anti-U.N. mood that was reflected in the foreign aid loss.

Administration officials also say the political trouble enveloping Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato existed before he joined with the United States in sponsoring the effort to keep Nationalist China.

Still, the attacks on Sato intensified after the Nationalists were kicked out and Japan found itself on the losing side.

And while U.S. officials say there has been nothing from Taiwan to indicate any worsening of relations with Washington over the U.N. action, some Nationalist sources have criticized both the American strategy and the depth of its commitment during the struggle.

There is little disagreement on any side that U.S.-U.N. relations have worsened.

There is a move in Congress to cut American financial support for the U.N. itself beyond the aid for related agencies. The administration claims it opposes such moves as retaliation, but Secretary of State William P. Rogers spoke for the administration when he said there needs to be a re-examination of the American share of U.N. costs if the organization does not institute economic reforms.

Sue To Remove Pastor Of Church

CINCINNATI (AP)—Members of the First Baptist Church of Seven Hills Tuesday filed suit to remove the Rev. Charley Bartlett as pastor, claiming he refused to run the church according to its constitution.

The suit, filed in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court, alleged the pastor said he intended to run the church "according to the Bible," and has refused to move out of the parsonage.

Trees Need Air
LLANDUDNO, Wales (AP) — Something like the kiss of life treatment is being given to trees that are dying through suffocation from natural gas in North Wales.

A special device gives "artificial respiration" by pumping oxygen to the roots. The gas leaked from underground mains.

State Parks To Reopen Saturday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. John Gilligan has ordered the reopening Saturday of 46 state parks closed Sept. 1 in an economy move.

The action coincides with the expiration Friday of a 60-day executive order under which the Natural Resources Department was able to close the parks without advance notice or public hearings.

Gilligan closed the parks as part of an austerity program he ordered after the Legislature had gone two months into the new fiscal year without enacting state budget.

Money-making facilities such as lodges, cabins and golf courses remained open at 11 other parks.

The Legislature still has not passed a biennial budget.

Since the fiscal year started July 1, the state has been operating on a series of short-term, interim budgets.

Derby

Mrs. Georgia Sweet
896-2462

This community lost one of its finest most respected families recently when Mr. and Mrs. Brice Connell sold their home and purchased a new home in Circleville. Circleville's gain is definitely Derby's loss.

Many many former students of old Derby Township High School have fond memories of classes in Mr. Connell's room. We will not forget how many young lives he helped mold and set in the right direction. He may have retired from teaching several years ago, but he can never retire from our hearts. Our best wishes go with them to their new home.

The Dainty Daisy TOPS Club which is now holding their meetings at the Clark's Lake Civic Building, had a celebration following their meeting on October 11, in honor of 2 new KOPS, Janet Malone and Ardith Distelhorst. Janet Malone became a KOPS on September 27, when she lost 28 pounds. Ardith Distelhorst reached her KOPS status on October 4 with a weight loss of 16½ pounds. For further information on the Dainty Daisy TOPS Club call Carole Ratcliff at 877-3790 or Norma Crabtree at 877-3328.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Steve Burgett on the loss of their daughter Misty Sue Burgett, 3 years, who passed away in Ypsilanti, Mich., last Tuesday. Sympathy especially to her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Rader, paternal grandmother, Mrs. Betty Burgett and to other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Schalmnas and family have purchased the former Brice Connell property, and we welcome them to our community.

Bonding Firms Rap Cincinnati Bail Schedules

CINCINNATI (AP)—A hearing is set for next Monday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court on a suit challenging lower bail schedules being used in the county's Municipal Court.

Liberty Bonding Co. here and four of its employees filed suit Monday on claims that the new schedule is "discriminatory, arbitrary, capricious, unreasonable." They said it has hurt their business.

The plaintiffs asked for an order to halt usage of the schedule, and to prohibit the Municipal Court clerk from following a new rule that prevents certain bondsmen from signing new bonds. Those bondsmen are ones who owe the county money for more than 60 days.

The new bail schedule and new rule were approved Oct. 18 by Municipal Court judges.

THURSDAY'S HOROSCOPE

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Conditions are eased today, especially in the late afternoon and evening. But you must be careful you do not suddenly make some drastic changes for you need to think them out carefully in the morning and look at every standpoint that could possibly be considered. However, you are more logical.

ARIES (March 21 to Apr. 19) If you sit down with partners and see just where you are headed, you can make the proper plans for advancement. Make notes of decisions you have reached, or they might elude you later on.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Study your financial position well so that you will know exactly how to proceed in the days ahead, and insure yourself greater abundance. Listen to what clever advisor has to suggest. Take it easy tonight.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Plan your personal life more wisely and intelligently and get good suggestions from wise persons. Forget disappointments of the past and concentrate on happiness in the near future. Put love in your heart.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan meticulously how to gain your finest aims and then do something to assist one who is in real trouble. Follow your intuitions, which are most accurate right now. Think logically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Listen to what an intelligent associate has to suggest where a most important personal wish is concerned. If at any group meeting, do not talk too much, or you could get into much trouble.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) By showing others you are a fine citizen, your career can take a turn for the better now. Get bills paid. Show you have exceptional ability at your particular work. Arrive on time for appointments.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Seek out all that data you need in order to make some new project you are working on more successful. Listen to ideas of a new associate but check over for truth and accuracy. Don't be a martyr at home.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have been neglecting certain tasks that should now be given your full and undivided attention. Show that you are a clever thinker. Enjoy relaxation tonight.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Serious talks with partners show how to improve all of your mutual projects so that more success is soon possible. Reaching a new agreement brings in benefits almost immediately.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get right at that work ahead of you and be very careful of important details. Plan later how to improve your wardrobe so it is more stylish, comfortable. Bring out your finest characteristics.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day and evening to get into all that creative work that appeals to you. Show appreciation for the good friends you have. Greater affection for closest tie is wise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) If you know what is expected of you at home, you can have more harmony there in the future. Plan to entertain more there in the future. Stop spending so much money in the outside world.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people with much wit and humor as well as much ability at handling matters well during emergencies. Make sure that education is slanted toward professions that require just these qualities as well as others.

The hands and fingers are very nimble here and anything of a precision nature is fine. Your progeny should, at an early age, study into new inventive ideas that are most worthwhile.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Prep Playoff Decision Coming Soon

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's 808 high schools will decide in the next month whether they want state football playoffs starting with the 1972 season.

The Ohio High School Athletic Association, the governing body for scholastic athletics, will survey the state's 723 football-playing school, as well as 85 schools that do not play the sport.

The OHSAA board of control has ruled out playoffs this season, even though weekly, computerized regional ratings of the state schools have been successful.

"We want the schools to give the board some direction in whether to continue the ratings for eventual playoffs or discontinue the ratings if no playoffs are desired," said OHSAA Commissioner Harold Meyer.

The commissioner said he hopes to have the survey completed by Dec. 1 and in time for the next OHSAA state board meeting here Dec. 15.

Meyer said the final computer ratings compiled by a Columbus firm will be mailed to all schools Nov. 18 and the schools will be surveyed on the playoff issue shortly afterward. "We want to do it while it's fresh in everybody's mind," said Meyer.

Eric Allen Named Best College Back

By HERSHEL NISSENSEN Associated Press Sports Writer For a Flea, which is what he's nicknamed, Eric Allen erased some pretty king-sized names Saturday from Michigan State's record book.

Eric the Flea carried the ball 29 times in the Spartans' 43-10 rout of Purdue and that wiped out Clint Jones of the Minnesota Vikings Joneses, who held the old mark of 268. It also was the most yardage by one running back in a major college football game, eclipsing by three the mark of Michigan's Ron Johnson in 1968.

Irish Government Moves To Stop Arms Shipment

DUBLIN (AP) — Two Irish navy minesweepers stopped and searched a tiny freighter today suspected of running guns for the Irish Republican Army, but the searchers found no arms.

In Northern Ireland, British troops rounded up 24 more persons suspected of being IRA guerrillas after gunmen blew up a tavern and a clothing store in Belfast Tuesday. The blasts killed two persons and injured 36, the biggest casualty toll from one guerrilla operation in the two years of communal warfare in the North.

The two minesweepers intercepted the 400-ton Kilcrea in rough seas off the coast of Cork. The Defense Department said a more extensive search would be made when the ship docked at Killybegs.

The Kilcrea took on grain in Belgium three weeks ago, and police sources said Interpol, the international police organization, had warned she might also have a consignment of weapons aboard. But Michael Horgan, whose Avoc Shipping Services owns the Kilcrea, said: "I can say categorically there is no question of us carrying arms."

A large shipment of arms believed destined for the IRA guerrillas in Northern Ireland was seized Oct. 16 at the Amsterdam airport. Three days later the Queen Elizabeth 2 landed six suitcases from New York that were found to contain arms.

Brown Leads Pacers To Defeat Cougars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Election Day 1971 was a long day for Roger Brown of the Indiana Pacers.

First Brown, a 29-year-old graduate of Dayton, won an at-large city-county council seat in the municipal elections in Indianapolis.

Then Brown, a 6-foot-5 American Basketball Association all-star who averaged 0.6 points per game last year, scored 4 points as the Pacers overpowered the Carolina Cougars 137-116.

In other ABA games, Kentucky trimmed Carolina 123-109, Virginia edged Utah 122-119 and Denver downed Pittsburgh 133-114.

The first penny chewing gum machines were placed in New York City elevated stations in 1888.

Dismiss 10 Bribery Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — nine charges stand because of testimony given concerning possible payments on those counts, according to court officials.

On trial are Gerald Donahue, Sidney Griffith and Harry Groban, officers of the loan-finding firm of Crofters, Inc., and James Lore, former investment officer for the School Employees Retirement System (SERS).

Judge Fred Shoemaker dismissed the charges in acting on motions by the defense after the state rested its case.

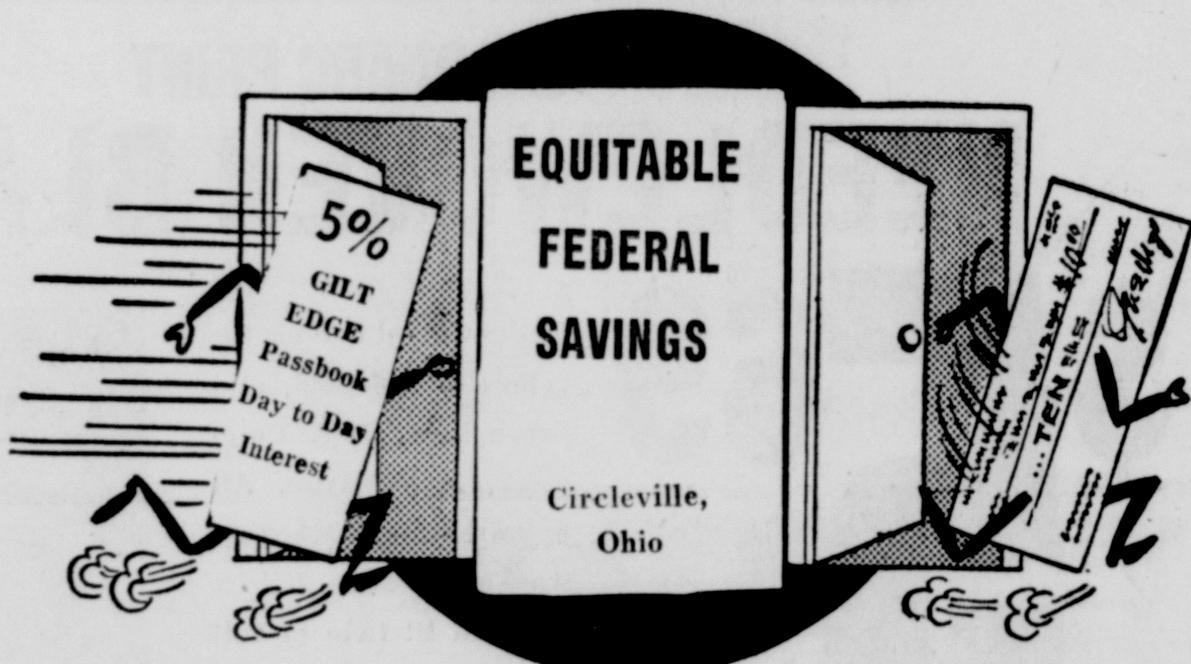

Shoemaker let the remaining The Crofters officers are accused of bribing Lore for assistance in getting SERS loans for Crofters clients.

Among evidence admitted into the record Monday was a list of the 19 loans on which bribes were alleged, and the amount of the finders' fee paid to Crofters or other firms run by Donahue, Griffith and Groban.

County Schools Conclude Season With Tough Foes

The curtain will come down for all three county schools Friday night as they make their final 1971 appearances before home fans.

Teays Valley will host Washington C.H., Logan Elm will meet Unioto and Westfall will take on a powerful Adena eleven.

The Vikings have been working hard all week in preparation for the invasion of the strong Blue Lions and will be ready Friday night.

"We must keep the Washington quarterback from getting outside on us as he is the key to the Lions offense," Viking coach Dick Kidwell stated.

"They have good size but we can match it," Kidwell added. "and feel that we can move the ball against them."

Washington uses a Wishbone T type offense with Steve Ross making it go. Ross is a rollout quarterback who can run and throw.

The Blue Lions will utilize a 6-1 invert defense and are a strong physical club.

The Vikings, always a strong trapping club, will send Ken Stewart, Dale Harris and Lance Henson at the Lions defense.

Teays Valley will stay with the same basic lineup that has been improving each week and could give Court House a bad time.

Senior members playing their last game for the Blue and Gold are Roy Good, Phil Salyer, Dale Harris, Dave Burgoon, Tony Archer, Terry McDaniel and Jack Brinker.

THE Mustangs will be in good physical shape when they take the field against the Warriors of Adena.

The Warriors dropped their opening game to Madison Plains but since then have dominated the opposition for a 7-1 season record.

Adena operates from a Wishbone T directed by quarterback Dan Ater. The explosive Warrior ground game consists of two speedy halfbacks and a 218-pound power fullback.

Depth is the key to the Adena power as they platoon complete offensive and defensive units which takes its toll on the opposition.

Strong ends and linebackers are the bulwark of the Warriors 5-4 defense.

"Lack of size will hamper our ground game against the bigger Warriors defense and we have been working hard on a passing game in hopes of finding a weak spot in the Adena secondary," Mustang coach Bill Vance stated.

SENIORS taking the field for the Mustangs in their final appearance are Randi Long, Dan Lett, Joe Jude, Rick Stonerock, Bill Blue, Jerry Smith and Larry Harris.

It will be Parents Night at Logan Elm and the Braves will be out to upset Unioto according to head coach Bob Stant.

The Shermans are second in the Scioto Valley Conference and have an excellent defense, a good kicking team and a strong running game.

Sprouse, the tailback in the Power I formation that Unioto uses much of the time, is the best offensive player. He carries the ball quite a bit, usually following the fullback in off-tackle power plays.

Defensively they use a 4-4 alignment with the linebackers

Warriors Turn Back NBA Bullets, 106-91

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cazzie Russell never had it so good when he played with the New York Knicks.

The former whiz from the University of Michigan, traded during the off-season by the Knicks, pumped in a pro career high of 43 points Tuesday night to lead the Golden State Warriors to a 106-91 victory over Baltimore in the National Basketball Association.

Cazzie sank 16 of his points in the final period to break open a close game as the Warriors won their fourth straight and six of their last seven.

Chet Walker scored nine points in the last two minutes to spark Chicago over Phoenix 108-101 in the other NBA game scheduled.

Siani Is Selected Top College Lineman

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — This had been a disappointing season for Mike Siani. He felt the college football he'd forgotten about. At least until Saturday he did.

Friday night, the 190-pound Siani ended caught 12 passes, 288 yards and five touchdowns in a 33-7 victory over Xavier. The TDs covered 68, 25, 9 and 10 yards. He earned the Associated Press National College Lineman of the Week.

doing a lot of stunting. Stant plans no changes for the game. The Braves have lost four halfbacks during the season, the latest two casualties, Punk Jones and Greg Justus, and lack power in the backfield.

"We will be going wide and passing," Stant says. Sophomore quarterback Steve Sargent is right around the 50 per cent mark in completions. "He is a good passer and we have some good receivers," according to the LE coach. "If we could pick our passing plays rather than having to throw so many desperation passes he would be well above 50 per cent."

Unioto's only loss in the Scioto Valley Conference has been to Adena.

Trevino Confident Of Win In Mexican National Open

MEXICO CITY (AP) — "I'm gonna beat you cats."

Lee Trevino, unabashed as ever, shook his finger and sounded the warning to a half-dozen Mexican pros gathered around his table at the Club De Golf—then flashed an impish grin to take the bite out of it.

"I sure didn't come all the way down here to finish second," Trevino said Tuesday after a practice round over the plush, 7,174-yard, par-72 layout.

Trevino, who set a single-season money winning record of $227,243 last week when he won the Sahara Invitational in Las Vegas, Nev., is here to compete in the Mexican National Open Golf Tournament, which starts a 72-hole run Thursday.

"I'm a Mexican and I thought the people here would like to see me play," said Trevino, a 31-year-old native of Dallas who now lives in El Paso, Tex.

"But what I really want to do is to win a fourth national championship. That ought to really make 'em sit up and take notice."

Trevino scored a never-before-accomplished sweep of the American, Canadian and British Open crowns earlier this season and faces relatively light opposition in this one.

The tournament is not a regular stop on the busy American tour and only a handful of the American tourists are in the field for this $28,000 event.

Among them are former PGA champion Bob Rosburg, Billy Maxwell, R. H. Sikes, Larry Ziegler, Marty Fleckman and Canadian veteran Al Balding.

About two dozen more Americans—most of them club pros from the southwest—also are in the 144 man line-up.

"It don't matter who's here," Trevino said. "Not the way I'm hitting the ball. I'm playing; just super, hitting the ball so good you just wouldn't believe it."

"I didn't keep score, but I was hitting it right on the flag every time I made a pass at it."

The $5,600 first prize—should he win it—will not count on Trevino's American total, but the happy-go-lucky guy isn't concerned about that.

Jenkins Wins Cy Young Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs, a 20-game winner in each of the past five seasons, today was named the National League's 1971 Cy Young Award winner.

Jenkins, a 28-year-old right-hander from Chatham, Ont., received 17 first place votes and a total of 97 points from the 24-man committee of the Baseball Writers Association of America.

Tom Seaver of the New York Mets was runner-up with six first place votes and 61 points, while Al Downing of the Los Angeles Dodgers was third with 40 points, including the remaining first place vote.

A 6-foot-5, 205-pounder, Jenkins compiled a 24-13 record for the Cubs, the most victories in the National League. He completed 30 of 39 starts and pitched 325 innings, tops in the league. He was second in the league to Seaver in strikeouts with 263 and compiled a 2.80 earned run average.

He is the first Cub pitcher ever to win the Cy Young Award, given annually to the leagues' outstanding pitcher.

Vida Blue of Oakland outpolled Mickey Lolich of Detroit for the American League's Cy Young Award.

Six other pitchers received votes. They were Dock Ellis, Pittsburgh, nine; Bob Gibson, St. Louis, three; Jerry Johnson, San Francisco, two; Dave Roberts, San Diego, two; Juan Marichal, San Francisco, one, and Bill Stoneman, Montreal, one.

Seaver, the 1969 winner, was 20-10 in 1971. He led the league in earned run average, 1.76 and also led in strikeouts, 289, a league record for right-handers.

Downing, a left-hander obtained by the Dodgers from Milwaukee Feb. 10 in a deal for outfielder Andy Kosco, had a 20-6 record and a 2.71 earned run average. In the three previous seasons, he had won a total of only 16 games.

The National League's fourth 20-game winner, Steve Carlton of St. Louis, did not receive a vote.

Gibson won the National League Cy Young Award last year. The American League winner in 1970 was Jim Perry of the Minnesota Twins.

Jenkins was mentioned on 23 of the 24 ballots, where each committee member makes three selections. Points are awarded on a 5-3-1 basis. Seaver was mentioned on 19 ballots and Downing on 18.

Jenkins came up to the major leagues late in 1965 with the Philadelphia Phillies. On April 21, 1966 he was traded to Chicago along with outfielder Adolfo Philips and first baseman John Herrnstein in exchange for veteran pitcher Bob Buhl and Larry Lackson.

In the five seasons starting with 1967, Jenkins won 20, 20, 21, 22 and 24 games. He has averaged better than 315 innings and 261 strikeouts over those past five seasons. His overall record for six-plus seasons in the majors is 115-81.

Synthetic Turf Makers Claim Product Fully Safe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manufacturers of synthetic football fields say their product is safe and that a House subcommittee should investigate instead other causes of player injuries, including the game itself.

"We have engineered our system to be as safe as we can make it within the framework of the sport," said Gene Troy, an official of Monsanto Co., maker of AstroTurf. "However, we cannot control the style of play, the protective equipment and footwear used, or the conditioning, attitude and coaching of the players involved."

James F. Higgins, spokesman for the 3M Co., maker of Tartan Turf, said rules changes, resistive exercises, game techniques and equipment all increase the injury potential.

"We believe the more valid question is the sport of football itself," said Morton Broffman, president of American Biltrite Rubber Co., which manufactures PolyTurf.

The three testified Tuesday at a hearing on artificial turf being held by the subcommittee on commerce and finance.

On Monday, the subcommittee, chaired by Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., heard several witnesses ask for a moratorium on installing artificial turfs until a comprehensive study is made to determine if the synthetic fields cause more injuries to players than grass field causes.

Troy disputed the testimony of Ed Garvey, executive director of the National Football League Players' Association.

"We contend that charges made by the NFLPA that there has been an alarming rise in player injuries on account of the increased use of artificial surfaces are irresponsible and completely without basis in fact," Troy said.

"It is the consensus of opinion of team physician, trainer and orthopedic surgeons that synthetic turf does not accelerate or extend the rate of injury," he said.

"To the contrary, data and information from our customers indicates that severe injuries occur with less frequency on our product than on natural grass."

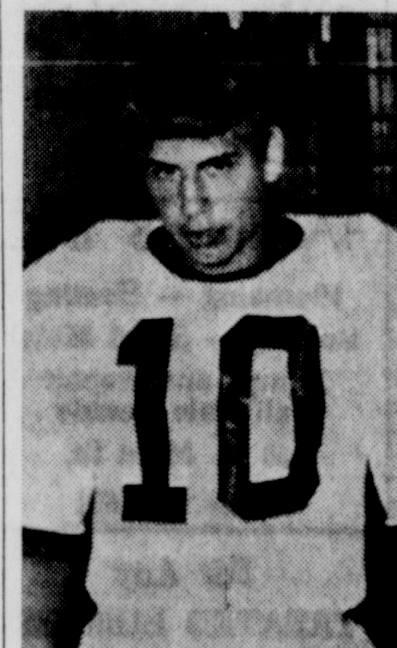

Prep Cross Country Championships Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The defending champions all return, but they face uphill fights Saturday to keep their titles in the 44th Ohio High School Cross Country Championships at Ohio State.

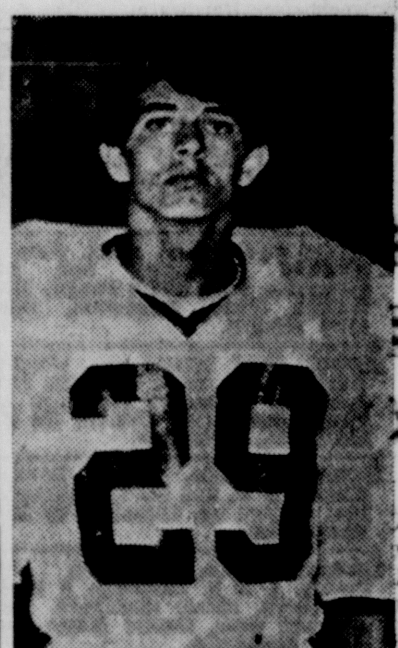

Kent State, which won the 1970 Class A team title, rates the best chance since it rolled to the Akron District championship last week.

Toledo DeVilbiss, the Class AAA king a year ago, and Kansas Lakota, the 1970 Class AA champ, could not win their own districts this season.

Forecaster Sees Football Upsets

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Its time for a visit from Ol Man Upset.

Would you believe: Iowa State over Nebraska? Louisiana State over Alabama? Florida over Georgia? Pitt over Notre Dame? Rice over Arkansas? Columbia over Dartmouth?

We don't think we've flipped, but we are picking some—but not all—of the aforementioned surprises. Which ones? Read on.

Iowa State at Nebraska—Bob "Broken Record" Devaney says this could be the toughest game so far for the Cornhuskers. "I know I said that last week, he admitted, "and Colorado was the toughest. But this team is every bit as good as Colorado was last weekend. Answers Iowa States Johnny Majors: "Nebraska has a complete football team. I don't see any weaknesses out there. I don't see any cracks in their defense. Nebraska chews you up and spits you out. Iowa State over Nebraska? Ptiui NEBRASKA.

Alabama at Louisiana State—"Tommy Casanova told me he was going to play against Alabama. LSU's Charlie McClendon said Monday, "That'll be great. Casanova, a pre-season All-American pick as a defensive back, has been sidelined since the second game of the season with a leg pull. Alabama has been winning, but hasn't been the same since the Tennessee game. Upset! LSU.

Georgia vs. Florida at Jacksonville—Georgia permitted 5 points in its opener but only 1 in the last seven games and is working on a string of three shutouts. "We're a good defensive team with a lot of pride, says Vince Dooley, "but we haven't really faced the type of offenses we're going to see against Florida and Auburn, especially offenses that throw the ball that well. Even without sophomore quarterback Andy Johnson ... GEORGIA.

Notre Dame at Pitt—Pitt has scored 96 points in three home games ... but Notre Dame has allowed only seven in two road games. NOTRE DAME.

Arkansas at Rice—Did Arkansas learn its lesson against Tulsa? Obviously not. Did Arkansas learn its lesson against Texas A&M? The guess is yes. ARKANSAS.

Dartmouth at Columbia—Dartmouth has won its last three games by three points, three again and two, with Ted Perry kicking long last-minute field goals to beat Harvard and Yale. Columbia's Cardiac Kids have beaten Yale and Rutgers by one point and Princeton by two and lost to Harvard by two and Cornell and Lafayette by three. Dartmouth has a 15-game winning streak. Make

John Hadl Named Tops On Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Sometimes the best laid plans go astray and players like San Diego quarterback John Hadl end up as The Associated Press' Offensive Player of the Week in the National Football League.

The Chargers said they hadn't expected to pass so much against the New York Jets, but they said it after Hadl had completed 19 of 27 passes for 358 yards and four touchdowns in a 49-21 rout of the Jets last Sunday.

Just for good measure, the veteran from Kansas also rushed for 38 yards and scored on a two-yard run.

Hadl, who missed breaking his personal one-game passing high as a pro by one yard and missed setting a club record by 12 yards, did not pass during the Chargers last eight offensive plays.

"I wasn't thinking records," said Hadl, who now has had fourteen 300-yard plus passing days as pro. "Records don't mean a thing."

Others considered for Offensive Player of the Week were quarterback George Blanda and receiver Fred Bittnickoff of Oakland, quarterback Dick Shiner of Atlanta and running back Larry Brown of Washington.

Oklahoma Leads In Grid Statistics

NEW YORK (AP) — Awesome Oklahoma is threatening to smash—in fact, destroy—the all-time rushing and total offense records for a full season, according to National Collegiate Sports Services.

The NCS, statistical arm of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, disclosed today that the unbeaten Sooners, ranked second in the country behind Nebraska, are averaging 489.1 rushing yards and 578.9 total offense for their first seven games.

that had. Upset! COLUMBIA. Michigan State at Ohio State—Since installing the Wishbone, Michigan State has scored 13 points against Michigan, 28 against Wisconsin, against Iowa and 43 against Purdue. At East Lansing, maybe, At Columbus, no. OHIO STATE.

Baylor at Texas—Baylor was the toughest Southwest Conference foe for Texas a year ago, holding the Longhorns to a mere 21-14 victory. They've all been tough this year, but ... TEXAS.

Washington State at Southern California—State was a unanimous pick for the Pacific-8 cellar but is leading the conference in total offense and, believe it or not, has shot at the Rose Bowl. Trojans seem to be rolling, finally. SOUTHERN CAL.

Washington at California—the Huskies have rediscovered the winning touch since losing to Stanford and Oregon and making a Rose Bowl trip a long-shot. Last year, Bears Ray Youngblood, whose half Choc-taw, intercepted three passes from Sonny Sixkiller, who's all Cherokee. WASHINGTON.

Clemson at North Carolina—Clemson beat Wake Forest at home by one point. Carolina beat Wake Forest at home by three. It's obvious, isn't it? NORTH CAROLINA.

Western Michigan, BGSU And Miami Wage Track War

By GEORGE STRODE
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Defending champion Western Michigan, Bowling Green and Miami will wage a close battle Saturday for the 1971 Mid-American Conference cross country title.

Western Michigan will have the advantage of running the six-mile test on its own hilly course. The Broncos won at Athens last year with 31 points to 50 for host Ohio University.

The Broncos already have won the Michigan State Institutional and finished second in the Notre Dame Invitational this season. They also have the top individual threat in Gary Harris, second in the MAC in 1970.

Bowling Green took the All-Ohio crown two weeks ago, beating Miami and Ohio University to do it.

Miami, which won five straight dual meets including an upset of Big Ten champion Michigan State, is the only contender with experience at six miles this season. The others have run five mile courses.

Around Ohio: Mount Union and Marietta, one-two a year ago, are the main contenders for the Ohio Conference cross country title Saturday at Wooster. All 13 league members will compete.

Toledo officials huddled with Mid-American Commissioner Fred Jacoby Tuesday to work out details for the league champion's third straight trip to the Tangerine Bowl Dec. 28 in Orlando, Fla.

The Rockets, who will leave Dec. 20, will face the winner of the Southern Conference game in the post-season contest.

Mid-American players continue to lead three national categories. Chuck Ealey of Toledo's 392 total yards against Western Michigan, Bowling Green's Julius Livas' 127 interception return yardage against Miami and Kent's Eddie Woodward's kickoff return yardage of 294 against Bowling Green are tops.

Miami, if it loses at Western Michigan Saturday, would extend the Redskins' losing spell to four games, longest since 1941. The 45-6 Toledo victory last week was the worst home and conference loss in history for Miami. The widest losing margin was 104-0 at Ohio Wesleyan in 1891.

Baldwin-Wallace, cruising along at 7-0 and sharing the Ohio Conference lead with Ohio Wesleyan, needs victories in its final three games to be a prime contender for the Amos Alonzo Stagg Bowl in Chicago.

Nelsen To Remain

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Cleveland Browns Head Coach Nick Skorich says he has no intention of shifting quarterbacks to try to get the team's lackluster offense moving.

Early in the game against Atlanta Sunday fans began calling for backup quarterback Mike Phipps to replace Bill Nelsen.

"Nelsen's our quarterback and we can win with him, Skorich said.

"He's had bad games before ... he's had bad halves and he's come back."

Most New School Levies Lose

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Unofficial and incomplete vote returns on school issues in Ohio's off-year election Tuesday shows more than one-third of new taxes for school purposes received approval.

Of the 50 districts on the ballot for the second time or more, voters defeated 68 per cent of the requests, including a new six mill levy in Newton Falls, Trumbull County.

It was for the seventh consecutive time and marked the first time in Ohio history that a proposal for increased school taxes had been defeated that many times, the OEA said.

Voters in Dayton approved a 13.6 mill renewal of existing taxes but their schools will close Nov. 5 despite that vote, Dayton voters will be asked to approve a 10.5 mill levy on Nov. 12 for the schools to reopen for the remainder of 1971. If that levy is defeated, Dayton school will remain closed until Dec. 14 when another new levy will be submitted to voters. If that one should fail, schools in Dayton would be closed from Nov. 5 until Jan. 3, 1972 when 1972 taxes could be collected.

As many as six renewals of existing levies were rejected. Early returns showed that 175 out of a total of 181 renewals passed.

Among districts which lost new levy requests and have asked to close, included three districts in Wood County—Otsego, Eastwood and Elmwood Locals.

Six districts lost levies for the fourth consecutive time—North-eastern, Clark County; South Central, Huron County; Firelands Local, Lorain County; Northmont, Montgomery County; Clyde, Sandusky County, and Highland Local, Morrow County.

Young Voters Have Trouble In Boston, Urbana Elections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Newly enfranchised young people, voting for the first time in some off-year elections Tuesday, ran into trouble at the polls in Boston and Urbana, Ohio.

Boston's elections commissioner said "a couple of hundred" of the 18-to-21 year-old voters were forced by challenges to cast paper ballots and record their names on them in the mayoral election.

The challenges, alleging improper registration, came mainly in the Back Bay and Allston districts where there are large numbers of college students. The Massachusetts attorney general ruled recently students could vote where they attended school as long as they resided there.

An aide to Mayor Kevin H. White, who defeated U.S. Rep. Louise Day Hick in the election, said the challenges were coming from Mrs. Hicks' supporters, but she denied this.

Under the election regulations, anyone who is challenged must cast a special paper ballot instead of voting by machine. The challenged voter has to sign the ballot along with the challenger. Such ballots are counted in the final tally and are allowed to stand until the challenge is proved.

In Urbana, 32 college students and two professors were arrested and charged with obstructing a polling place after they staged a sit-in.

The demonstration began when some students refused to sign a statement declaring Urbana their permanent residence and were, in turn, denied ballots.

On the positive side of the youthful vote, a 19-year-old student in Ocala, Fla., forced an incumbent city councilman into a runoff.

David Passman, a sophomore at Central Florida Junior College, came in second in the three-way race for a City Council seat. He and the leader, Councilman Lail Morthland, will meet in a runoff Nov. 16.

Morthland received 1,823 votes; Passman got 1,573, and J.J. Russ got 1,469.

Passman said he thought young people "weighed me as a candidate" and did not vote for him simply because of his age. He said he ran for the office because "the council heeded to be aloof of the voters."

authorized, including additional lights in the Isaac-Moats additions. Gerhardt said that four additional lights were authorized for installation on the Lancaster Pike from Main Street to Nicholas Drive. He cited the increased traffic congestion caused by the opening of a new Borden Burger restaurant.

A letter from Columbia Gas of Ohio noted that there will be a decrease of $.0015 per 1,000 cubic feet of gas to consumers in Circleville.

Service Director Atwood Jones reported the Planning and Zoning Commission held a hearing concerning rezoning a tract of land on South Court Street at Harrison Ave., from multiple family residents to local business district. Request for rezoning the area was submitted by Green Inc., Columbus, developers. The firm indicated it wanted to build a shopping center including a bank, service station, fast food service restaurant, supermarket and mercantile establishment. Planning and Zoning recommended the area be rezoned as requested. City Council will have to hold a public hearing before action can be taken.

A petition seeking the installation of curbs and gutters at 417 S. Washington Street was read.

Mayor Richard Gerhardt noted that the city is operating the sewerage disposal plant with no permit. According to Gerhardt the state has not renewed the city's permit because it is behind schedule in constructing a new sewer plant.
